International Job Broker Conference

Introduction

Outcome in terms of successful and sustainable placements becomes increasingly important as performance indicator for measures of active labour market policy (ALMP) across Europe resulting in outcome orientated contracting of providers of ALMP measures.

These new challenge forces providers to rethink their services as well as traditional job roles of Job Agents (ArbeitsvermittlerInnen) and Counsellors (BeraterInnen) & Trainers. In this situation a new occupational role emerged.

Under the headline "Job Broker" we will look at this new role and understanding of Job Brokering service and define a job profile, that merges the traditional roles of Job Agents and Counsellors.

In this conference Richard Parkes will illuminate transitions in labour market policy that led to emergence of this new occupational profile. Soffia Gisladdottir from Iceland will show us how a Job Broker training was implemented in Iceland. Marta Rojas-Pineda from EURES Austria will inform us about activities of EURES and will give us an Outlook on new developments around EURES in the next years. Eventually we will take a look at different forms of Job Brokering in different contexts and countries.

The conference will be devoted to the following aspects:

- An occupational profile for "Job Brokers" in EU
- "Job Broker" trainings across Europe
- An insight in the activities of EURES
- Innovative Job Brokering activities
- Kick-Off for a European Network of Job Brokers
